

VOLUNTEER READY!

Partnering with Marine Corps Volunteers is a mutually beneficial way of achieving goals and objectives. With proper planning and training, companies can gain from many perspectives by engaging resources that are willing to provide services for many reasons. Understanding processes and regulations will help companies leverage volunteers while showing their appreciation for their contributions in a respectful and appropriate way.

Volunteer Ready is designed to assist companies in developing the tools necessary to engage Marine Corps Volunteers in a way that is ethical, proper, and mutually beneficial. This class will educate Accepting Officials, military or civilian (external or internal), clients about volunteerism, and their responsibilities while working with Marine Corps Volunteers.
